(FBI (NAAK))

Dear Dr. Charles:

This is in response to your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request of June 7, 2013, which was received in this office on June 14, 2013. Your request has been assigned case number RD 40545. You requested access to Federal Bureau of Investigation Headquarters Case File 100-HQ-465807 and New York Field Office Case File 100-NY-109371 regarding Edward Sagarin/Donald Webster Cory. These files are part of Record Group 65, Records of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

We have completed our review of file 100-HQ-465807 (location: 490/37/08/6, box 8005), totaling eight pages. We have determined that five pages may be released in full. Three pages may be released with portions redacted under exemption (b)(7)(D) of the Freedom of Information Act. Exemption (b)(7)(D) exempts the release of information that could reveal the identity of a confidential law enforcement informant.

We have also completed our review of file 100-NY-109371 (location: 490/31/29/6, box 2834), totaling 34 pages. We have determined that 23 pages may be released in full. Eleven pages may be released with portions redacted under exemption (b)(7)(D) of the Freedom of Information Act.

If you consider this an adverse response, you may appeal, in writing, within 35 days of the date of this letter. Address your appeal to the Deputy Archivist of the United States, National Archives and Records Administration, 8601 Adelphi Road, College Park, MD 20740-6001. Please indicate that your correspondence is a FOIA appeal on both the letter and the envelope.

Enclosed are courtesy photocopies of the redacted files. If you have any questions regarding the processing of your case, please contact Mary Kay Schmidt by email at marykay.schmidt@nara.gov.

This concludes the processing of your FOIA request.

Sincerely,

MARTHA WAGNER MURPHY

INFORMATION CONCERNING

FOIA(b) 7 - (D)

The following information concerning the captioned person is being furnished for the information of the Bureau:

[redacted] Consultant, George W. Henry Foundation, New York City, who has been very cooperative and of great assistance in the past in investigations involving homosexuals, recently called attention to the fact that EDWARD SAGARIN, who writes under the pen names of D. W. CORY, DONALD WEBSTER CORY and DANIEL WESLEY CORY, is the proprietor of the Cory Book Service, 237 East 56th Street, New York City. He specializes in books by and about homosexuals and sponsors a book-of-the-month type of club for the distribution of these books among homosexuals. SAGARIN, as D. W. CORY, is the author of "The Homosexual in America", a subjective approach to the question of homosexuality. This book was published 9/28/51 by Greenberg Publishers, New York City, a legitimate publisher. SAGARIN resides at 57 Lincoln Road, Brooklyn, New York.

[redacted] feels that SAGARIN is bad influence among the homosexuals in New York City and the vicinity in that his activity among the homosexuals tends to encourage homosexuality rather than to reduce it.

[redacted] furnished a copy of a report he made to the Board of Trustees of the George W. Henry Foundation dated 4/14/52 with regard to a meeting of Homosexuals Anonymous he addressed, with misgivings, at the request of SAGARIN. Two photostatic copies of this report are attached. [redacted] has advised that Homosexuals Anonymous is an informal group composed of homosexuals who are banded together to protect their "civil rights" and in particular to endeavor to have the U. S. Department of Defense change bad conduct discharges given servicemen who are homosexuals to good conduct discharges.

[redacted] has stated that SAGARIN is a homosexual and a despicable person. As is set forth near the bottom of page one of the report, [redacted] stated that at the end of his talk there was some discussion. It seemed, however, that SAGARIN set him up as a straw man to demolish his position and then immediately took refuge in the theory of the so-called Great Men of History who happened to be homosexual. As is set out on page two of this report in the second paragraph, one GEORGE SYLVESTER VIERECK was one of the group of homosexuals attending the meeting.

PHILLIP LOUIS ELLISON of Photographic Inc., 1603 "K" Street, N.W., was contacted by SA FRANCIS PATRICK COTTER of this office during December of 1951, to obtain copies of photographs of Soviet Embassy Receptions. [redacted] had been advised by ELLISON that he was to be the photographer for the 1951, reception. ELLISON made available copies of these photographs, and information relative to those present at the reception. This latter information has been proven to be reliable.

ELLISON has since advised SA COTTER that he is a homosexual, and has been arrested in Los Angeles and once in Washington, D. C., for soliciting acts of perversion. ELLISON further advised that he is a veteran of World War II, and a member of the American Legion. ELLISON told SA COTTER that Communists have "used" homosexuals throughout the world, and added that he would like to "use" his homosexuality "against them."

On March 5, 1952, SA COTTER received a letter from ELLISON addressed to this office in which ELLISON advised that he had attended a meeting during the previous week of a group "who are starting a Homos Anonymous, patterned after an established HA in New York." ELLISON added that one of the organizers of the New York "Post" DONALD WEBSTER CORY, (a pen name) an author of a book on the homosexual's daily problem, was present at the meeting. ELLISON continued:

"CORY mentioned in the general discussion that the Civil Rights Congress in New York was working with them (HA) in assisting former GI's and officers in getting honorable discharges, trying to revoke the tainted "blue" discharges."

THE GEORGE W. HENRY FOUNDATION
UNIVERSITY SETTLEMENT HOUSE
184 ELDREDGE STREET
NEW YORK 2, N.Y.

14 April 1952

To: Dr. Henry
The Rev. Dr. Gill - As Executive Committee of the Foundation

Subject: Meeting of Homosexual Group

At the last meeting of the Foundation Board, I presented the request of Mr. Ed. Sagarin (Corey), the author of "The Homosexual in America" that I speak before a discussion group of individuals he had organized. It was made clear to Mr. "Corey" that the Foundation specifically discouraged groups of this sort, but that, if he thought that my experience was worth anything, I would be glad to speak as an individual. Arrangements were therefore made for me to speak at the home of a Dr. Weil in Kew Gardens. Considerable difficulty was had in finding the address because of some peculiar characteristics of street numbering in that area. I arrived somewhat late, at about 8:30 PM., and found about twenty men in Dr. Weil's parlor. They were in various social attitudes, and seemed to be having a good time gossiping among themselves. When I arrived, it seems that an alcoholic beverage (whisky) was about to be served. It was considered unwise to object to this, although I had some misgivings as to whether a serious address could be made to the accompaniment of clinking glasses, and the relaxed (?) attitude alleged to be produced by liquor. It is interesting to note that this man made no effort to provide the speaker with more acceptable refreshment.

Mr. Sagarin-Corey opened the meeting with some complimentary statements about the Foundation, and an appeal for financial assistance. I very quickly denied that it were best to state that Mr. Sagarin-Corey made his appeal without my authority. In no case were contributions made, nor need they be expected. I spoke quite briefly, using some of the material I had given at Union Seminary. Because the day was Good Friday, I said that, at the risk of some seeming irreverence, the meeting could be likened to an assembly of early Christians living under the Caesars in I Century Rome, in the fear of the police seizing the assembly, etc. I was coldly factual in my statements of what the homosexual had to contend with in the way of hostile opinion. I stated that the homosexual had no rights as such that the community was bound to respect, and that unfortunately the community judged the group by the conduct of its worst members. I used the now familiar theme of the homosexual as a minority group, subject to the disabilities of minority groups, and advised those present that I conceived their function to conduct themselves so as to command the respect of men by their public conduct, etc., etc., etc. There was some discussion, and some fairly intelligent questions. It would seem, however, that Mr. Sagarin-Corey set me up as a straw man to demolish my positions. He immediately took refuge in the theory of the so-called Great Men of History who happened to be homosexual. Several men came in from time to time as the meeting progressed, and I abandoned my speech entirely at a point when six men noisily entered the room, stating that I had talked enough and would endeavor to answer questions. One especially annoying individual wanted to know whether I had ever studied history because he had seen the film "Quo Vadis" and didn't know whether he liked my figure of the catacomb hole-and-corner persecuted life of the I Century Christians. Later he was reported to me by Mr. Sagarin-Corey as having attended the Sorbonne and being a candidate for his Ph. D. at Columbia. At the meeting, he sat near enough to me to have the odor of liquor reach me. He was an effeminate individual of the sort described among the cognoscenti as "piss-elegant", more understandable in Dr. Henry's language as a pretentious fool.

I was most disturbed to discover in the meeting one George Sylvester Viereck, who has been in and out of trouble with the Federal Government with his pro-Nazi activities. I am entirely without desire to report on the activities of the group, for the Foundation has no further interest in those individuals, who are digging their own grave. I am concerned, however, at the possible dangers represented by such an one as Mr. Viereck having access to a group of individuals who are, to use Dr. Henry's phrase, easily influenced by circumstances. If any are in Government employment.....

I made it quite clear that I was desirous of leaving as soon as possible. I let myself be discouraged from one attempt to go, and, five minutes later, I reminded the group that it was ten-thirty, and that I was desirous of getting home. On Monday Mr. Sagarin-Corey telephoned perfunctory thanks, and suggested that he was grateful for my attendance, and wondered if I was "mad" because he took me apart, as he thought. I reminded him that I had come prepared to deliver an address and not engage in debate. So far as I was concerned, Mr. Sagarin thought thus, and Mr. Gross thought so: the audience could take its choice. I did suggest to him that the Chair might have protected me from the insults of the unpleasant intoxicated "fairy", but that I had no desire to engage in controversy with an individual of that sort, especially as the administrative head of a responsible agency.

If a text could be picked out for the sermons Mr. Sagarin desires preached, it would be: "...Say to the seers, see not, to the prophets prophesy not, prophesy smooth things." It was an evening that contributed to my education at all events, and representative of something not to do again.

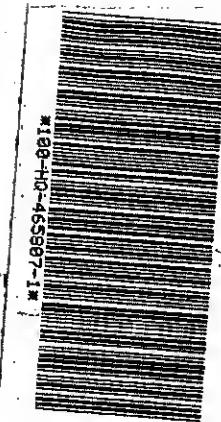

Mr. Sagarin-Corey had the castiron gall to desire the use of the Parish Hall of St. Edward's Church for the meeting place of his group. I quickly discouraged this ambition. He also stated that he thought he would have "Ted Gill" come and speak to his group. I told him that the Reverend Doctor Gill was a free agent and would come or go as he saw fit. My own impression is that our President would be very poorly advised to speak before a group which desires to be confirmed in its thinking (if it can be called such). However, I strongly disbelieve in censorship, and Mr. Gill need not consult me as to whether he would go or refrain from going. However, I cannot feel that he would be even in the position of St Paul on Mars' Hill.

Apart from the Viereck implications, it was simply a wasted evening. It was not altogether that, because it furnished ample confirmation of Dr. Henry's theory of the unwisdom of homosexual group meetings.

The 1970-1971 bulletin of the City College of Liberal Arts and Sciences under the Department of Sociology lists Edward Sagarin as Assistant Professor.

II. MISCELLANEOUS

[Dr. Gross]

A second confidential source advised in 1952-1953 that Edward Sagarin, who writes under the pen names of D. W. Cory, Donald Webster Cory and Daniel Wesley Cory, is the proprietor of the Cory Book Service, 237 East 56th Street, NYC, specializing in books by and about homosexuals and in addition sponsors a book-of-the-month type or club for the distribution of these books among homosexuals.

Source advised that Sagarin, as D. W. Cory, is the author of "The Homosexual In America", a subjective approach to the question of homosexuality. This book was published September 28, 1951 by Greenberg Publishers, NYC, a legitimate publisher. Source advised Sagarin then resided at 57 Lincoln Road, Brooklyn, NY.

Source advised that Sagarin is a bad influence among the homosexuals in NYC and vicinity in that his activity among the homosexuals tends to encourage homosexuality rather than to reduce it.

Source stated that Sagarin is a homosexual and a despicable person who set up a group called "Homosexuals Anonymous" for the purpose of protecting their "Civil Rights" and in particular, to endeavor to have the United States Department of Defense change bad conduct discharges given servicemen who are homosexuals to good conduct discharges.

A third confidential source advised on May 13, 1965, that a teach-in on the issues in Viet Nam was held at the auditorium of The City College Bernard M. Baruch School of Business and Public Administration, 17 Lexington Avenue, NY, on May 13, 1965 and that Edward Sagarin was listed as one of the speakers.

"The Ticker", a student publication of The City College Bernard Baruch School of Business and Finance, in its issue of March 26, 1968, on page one, contained an article titled "Proposed Strike Gathers Momentum; Committee Focuses On 'Stop the War'."
